

Airlines are jamming seats closer together and filling more and more of their flights to full capacity. Personal space on an airplane is at a premium. Please do not obliterate it altogether by allowing cell phone conversations while a plane is in the air.